Talk on Child Abuse, Domestic Violence and Sexual Harassment

Dated 04.09.2015 at CPDUMT, Maulana Azad National Urdu University

An extension lecture on Child Abuse, Domestic Violence and Sexual Harassment was organized by the Department of Social Work, MANUU on dated 04.09.2015 to aware and sensitize young minds.

Dr. Farzana, Programme Manager, and Ms. Pearl Choragudi, Senior Counselor, were the resource persons and experts on Gender and Human Rights from My Choices, a reputed non-governmental organization working in Hyderabad. It was stressed that India is the most unsafe place for girls to take birth keeping in view the gravity of crime against women as one rape takes place in every 20 minutes and one out of five is a child.

Discussing in the light of Domestic Violence Act, 2005, and Protection of Child from Sexual Offences Act 2012, Dr. Farzana highlighted different form of violence and abuse against women and children and pointed out that in most cases perpetrator appears to be an acquainted and that too from the victims' family. It was very shocking to note that house is the most unsafe place in this regard.

Explaining the reason, the resource persons argued that the long back and deep rooted patriarchal structure make the conditions extremely vulnerable where the victims are subjugated and are made responsible for such oppression which is very unfortunate. The violence and abuse has become so routine that now it is looking normal to male counterpart. She highlighted the common saying in our culture i.e. 'Ima to chalta hai' (This much is ok and acceptable) which has now been legitimized irrespective of thinking about the dignity and self esteem of female counterpart.

Discussing the brutality of such offence, Pearl Choragudi, the senior counselor, My Choices highlighted that such incidences have lifelong effects on the victims' psychosocial life and restrict her/his proper social functioning.

Further, Prof. Mohd Shahid, Head, Department of Social Work discussed this oppression against women and children from the hegemonic and common sense perspective. He argued how language, symbols and so called socialization are responsible as subterranean forces to cause violence and abuse against women and children. He suggested that we need to critically rethink and introspect the oppressive forces within ourselves that is so systematically inculcated that we believe them as reality which is actually neither correct nor acceptable. He strongly recommended questioning ourselves that at what different points we behave in an oppressive manner so that we can control our behavior and give respect to others in dignified ways.

Mr. Md Israr Alam, In charge Guest Lecture emphasized the need and importance of discussion and awareness on such social problems specially for students who are the future leaders and torch bearers of progressive and just society. Around 100 students and teaching and non teaching staff from different departments took part in this talk. Talk was very interactive as participants raised different questions and issues for clarification on various related issues.

Dr. Md Shahid Raza, Associate Professor, Department of Social Work welcomed the guests and Dr. Md Aftab Alam, Field Work Coordinator, presented the vote of thanks.

An extension lecture on ‘HIV/AIDS and Social Work’ was organized by the Department of Social Work, MANUU on dated 18.09.2015 to aware and sensitizes young minds about epidemic of HIV/AIDS.

“HIV/AIDS is more than a disease, it is a social stigma endemic across different parts of the societies”, says Dr. T. Kailash Ditya, the speaker of the programme and the Joint Director of APSACS, Hyderabad who possesses a wide experience in the field of HIV/AIDS.

He talked about causes and consequences and stressed more on prevention as the only cure available so far and hence mass level awareness and sensitization is highly required. While focusing on this, he highlighted the importance of awareness and sensitization of youth of universities and colleges as they fall under the high risk group, says the speaker.

He further, discussed about the treatment process for those who are found positive with HIV. In this regard, the speaker informed about the use of Antiretroviral Therapy to control and strengthen the immune system of HIV infected people in combating illness.

Pointing out the role of Social Work students at different level of interventions for HIV/AIDS, he explicated that social workers are professionally trained both in theoretical domain as well as exposure at the field and have skills in rapport building with the client, resource mobilization and managing the whole programme and behavioral modification of people at high risk. This encouraged students about the job opportunity in the market.

Further, Dr. Md Shahid Raza, Associate Professor, Dept. of Social Work presented the presidential remark and highlighted the relationship between theoretical and practical aspects of professional social work. He discussed about social work intervention at micro, mid and macro levels in both the preventive and curative domain of intervention. ‘Field Work is crucial component in this regard which orient students about various practical aspects related to different problems’ says Dr. Md Shahid Raza. He also mentioned Department’s efforts through Skill Lab exercise in the process of making students sensitive and deft in handling sensitive issues like HIV/AIDS, Gender, and Disability.

Mr. Md Israr Alam, Assistant Professor and In charge of the programme introduced the topic to the audience and put emphasis on need to know and aware about HIV/AIDS to save society and young generation from this danger.
